Mastery Families,

Sending a reminder to read with your students every day, and to be browsing the online learning resources that were sent out. The best place to find all our information is on our website: masterycharter.org/HAP. Your child's HAP teacher will be sharing more specific recommendations for units of study next week.

Please note that the School District of Philadelphia is distributing "learning guides" at SDP food service sites. Mastery will be mailing our print practice packets – you don't need to pick yours up at a food service site.

To brighten up another rainy day, here's a great video made by some of Hardy Elementary's amazing teachers, leaders and staff members who are missing their students: <https://vimeo.com/399465456>
